Introduction to the University of Pécs

During the time of founding the first universities in Central Europe, King Louis established the first Hungarian university in Pécs in 1367. Its persistence, however, remains uncertain. According to historical research, there must have been a separate College of Law and a College of Theology in Pécs by the end of the 15th century, replacing the university. In 1785 Emperor Joseph II moved the Royal Academy from Győr to Pécs, which was relocated again in 1802.

In 1833 bishop Ignác Szepessy, in cooperation with the town council, established the Academy of Pécs, which worked with faculties of law and arts. On 15th June 1921, the Hungarian Parliament passed a bill in which Elisabeth University, previously operating in Pozsony, was transferred to Pécs. From 1923 the institution included faculties of law, medicine, humanities, and, theological studies at the University. The Faculty of Humanities was brought to Kolozsvar in 1941. In 1951 the Faculty of Medicine became independent, so the University of Pécs had a single Faculty of Law.

In 1975, The Faculty of Economics was organized, which, since 1970, had worked as a transferred branch of the Karl Marx University of Economics in Pécs.

The Teacher Training College of Pécs became integrated as a university's Faculty in 1982.

The first step towards the modern university with six faculties was set up in 1991. After undergoing significant structural changes, the Faculty of Teacher Training split into the Faculty of Humanities and the Faculty of Sciences. The Pollack Mihály Technical College was integrated into the university, and the Faculty of Performing and Fine Arts was established in 1995.

The university has been running International Programs in English for non-Hungarian students since 1987. These programs work with a professional team of academics who can offer courses under a broad scope of Central and Eastern European Studies.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

Welcome from the Dean of the Faculty of Business and Economics of the University of Pécs

I am happy to welcome you to the University of Pécs and, particularly, to the Faculty of Business and Economics.

Our Faculty has been active in Hungarian business education since 1970 when the Faculty was established as a teaching unit of the Budapest University of Economics. In 1975, the name of the University was changed to the University of Pécs, and it had two Faculties. We became a separate Faculty of the (then) Janus Pannonius University in 1982. Our work has been continuous ever since in unbroken growth and development. We have an impressive track record of educating hundreds of students and cooperating with the institutional environment.

Our programs aim to develop professionals who can stand up to the constantly evolving and challenging business environment, who are learned, and who can apply the cutting-edge academic knowledge we always strive to give. We do everything in our power to develop ourselves to provide the best of our knowledge, skills, and abilities to those we teach. We look to instill in all our students the respect for real professionalism, professionally based knowledge, a high level of ethics, and a sense of responsibility towards their community.

The International Ph.D. program is unique to us. Working with international students who decided to come and study with us is a privilege. We recognize that you came to our school because you thought we would be able to give you something special that you cannot obtain anywhere else in the world. Our experience in the economic transition that we experienced as it happened offers us the opportunity to provide an education that you cannot find anywhere else. It is not just a transition we know about, but we can proudly state that our researchers and professors are recognized internationally in research and education. We have amongst us Harvard alumni, people who participated in world-class research groups, and educators who have a far-reaching international acknowledgment. We are happy to share all this with you.

We provide practical information in this handbook, which we mean as a guidebook for you on the road to your studies. Let this be your main source of information and reference for the future.

I am glad that you have chosen this path of studies. The work before you is not easy by any means; you will surely meet failure and have setbacks and disappointing moments, but be sure that this is an inevitable part of the journey. Keep in mind that our aim, first and foremost, is to make you an excellent researcher, a recognized name in the field of business research, and an accomplished Ph.D.

I wish you perseverance, tenacity, and lots of success and joy of creation on the long road towards your Ph.D. degree.

Prof. Dr. András TAKÁCS

Program Director's welcome

Welcome to the Ph.D. program of the Faculty of Business and Economics at the University of Pécs. I hope that you find this introduction useful as a guide to studies. This document serves to help you through your first steps in the Faculty and the Program.

It is important to note that further information on the Program, your rights and duties can be found in this official Student Handbook. This document is available on the Faculty's intranet site: Neptun in electronic version, and also, a hard copy can be consulted in the Study Department.

The Faculty of Business and Economics at the University of Pécs established its International Ph.D. Program in Business Administration for professionals in the world of business or public administration with several years of experience in their field.

The Program is designed to help students explore the world of business research and to acquire the knowledge necessary for writing a successful dissertation in their areas of interest. The lecturers working in the Program guide students through the learning process of doing independent research and help them to gain understand the requirements of quality effort expected of researchers worldwide. The joint work of students and lecturers enables hardworking students to gain knowledge and skills that are essential to the right accomplishments.

I will be your Program Manager and will meet and greet you in the course of time. My primary role is to support and advise you on your academic progress through your studies. My colleagues and I look forward to working with you and helping you to achieve your learning and career aspirations.

I wish you every success in an intellectually challenging adventure!

Students will be approached via email regularly. The nature of the studies makes it imperative that you have a working email address, and that you provide it to program administration immediately at registration. You can ask for an official university e-mail address in the Studies Office. This address will expire after you have completed your studies.

Your contact and personal details

You should ensure that we have an accurate contact information to guarantee that all important communication reaches you. In case you wish to modify any of your personal data or availability, please communicate with the Student Affairs Officer.

NEPTUN Electronic Administration System

At the beginning of each semester, it is your responsibility to set your status in the NEPTUN as active and to sign up for your courses in the course registration period. Furthermore, in the exam period, you have to register for each examination date. Otherwise, you won't be allowed to participate in the examination. NEPTUN is available from the Faculty's website: <https://neptun.pte.hu/en>, https://neptun.pte.hu/en/hallgatoi_segedlet

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

At the beginning of your studies, you will receive an intensive training program that will provide you with all the information on the options of the intranet. To log into the intranet, you will have to use your student ID number and the password that was provided to you at the beginning of your studies. If you have any difficulties using the intranet, please contact the Student Affairs Officer.

Moodle Learning Management System

Your subjects' content and additional information is on the University's Learning Management System: Moodle. <https://moodle.pte.hu/login/index.php> You will get the login credentials at registering for your studies.

Please carefully follow the system because the study material, the lecturers' announcements and – in case of the lecturer's choice – exams will be there.

TEAMS Interface

Because of the pandemic situation the University kept Microsoft TEAMS which is a collaborative work platform. You will also have possibilities to work via this software, and in case of a serious pandemic situation teaching will move to TEAMS.

The Process of Obtaining the Ph.D

1. First phase: study and research phase: duration two years
 - a. Fulfilling all the study requirements (120 credits);
 - b. participating at the Proposal defense and having an accepted research proposal
 - c. fulfilling partly the publication requirements; collecting minimum 3 points
2. Doctoral Complex Examination closes the first phase. This exam is on a pass/fail basis, no marking is possible.
3. Second phase: research and dissertation writing; duration two years. If the student satisfies all requirements the Study Office automatically registers her/him, but STUDENTS HAVE TO SET THEIR STATUS ACTIVE ON THE NEPTUN SYSTEM. THIS IS NOT DONE BY THE STUDY OFFICE! STUDENTS HAVE TO SET THEIR STATUS ACTIVE IN EACH OF THE SEMESTERS OF THE SECOND PHASE OF THE PH.D. STUDIES!
The student can hand in the dissertation if s/he has satisfied the publication requirements in full;

- minimum 30 publication points, among them 4 peer reviewed journal articles, minimum 1 article in SJR - <https://www.scimagojr.com/>, all in English.

Submitted dissertations will be pre-evaluated by two external experts in the field. The student has to accept the opinion of the reviewer and correct the dissertation accordingly. After this, the student can hand in the dissertation for the final evaluation. If the student cannot hand in the dissertation at the end of the second phase; in the fourth year s/he may get one more year upon request. In the case of attenuating circumstances this can be extended to plus one year.

By the end of the second phase, students shall obtain the absolutorium.

4. Final evaluation by two external specialists in the field. In the case of two favorable evaluations the student can defend her/his dissertation at an open debate.
5. Defense: open debate.

Your timetable

You are allocated to timetabled lectures, labs, seminars, and workshops based upon your module registrations. Your schedule is available on the Neptun message board and the following website:

<https://ktk.pte.hu/en/students/studies/bachelor-programs/timetables>

If your timetable is incomplete or if you have any queries about your schedule, then please contact the Student Affairs Officer.

Any changes to your calendar will be notified to you by the Program Administrator.

Students are expected to be here at the face-to-face courses! The only exception that the Faculty can make is the pandemic situation. PLEASE NOTIFY PROGRAM MANAGEMENT IMMEDIATELY IF YOU ARE UNABLE TO ATTEND BECAUSE OF ILLNESS, CLOSED BORDERS, INABILITY TO OBTAIN A VISA, OR BECAUSE OF ANY OTHER DEBILITATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

PROGRAM MANAGEMENT WILL DO EVERYTHING WHICH IS POSSIBLE IN THE CIRCUMSTANCES AND IS POSSIBLE IN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM.

It is the students' responsibility to check regularly timetables and messages on the designated sites and those that they get via email! Program management cannot be held responsible for those missed opportunities about which the student got notification but left that message out of consideration!

Learning, teaching, and assessment

The learning, teaching, and assessment approaches used throughout your program will encourage you to be actively involved in your learning and to co-operate with other students. We aim to give you prompt feedback on your learning as well as opportunities to reflect upon and learn from that feedback.

Learning and teaching methods

You will be actively involved in a range of learning, teaching and assessment approach as part of your study program. Such active learning approaches aim to put you at the center of your learning, so you are involved and engaged in all aspects of your learning and its assessment. Your program will require your active participation in learning activities and engagement with your fellow students both individually and collaboratively, working and learning with other students as part of a small group. Learning activities will also occur both within and outside the classroom.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

Your learning will also be supported by technology. Increasingly your tutors will be using existing and emerging learning technologies to engage you in e-learning activities. Your program will be facilitated using a variety of media and online tools (podcasts, wikis, simulations) which will allow you flexible access to a diverse range of online resources, quizzes, and learning materials as well as collaborative tools with which you can engage and learn with your peers. Not confined by time and space you may be able to take part in online discussions and learning activities from wherever you are studying. Your tutors will provide any support you may need while learning online.

Because of the nature of the program, you will be required to do a considerable amount of your learning alone, not in the classroom. Classroom activities are designed to provide you information about the requirements of the school in helping you towards your Ph.D. dissertation. These are just a fraction of the work that needs to be done. The majority of the research and publication activities are trusted to you, your judgment and your scheduling. The program provides you with all the necessary information, tutorial help to satisfy the requirements of the Ph.D.

Your assessment

The deadlines for both summative and formative assessments and when feedback is due, and the form it will take can will be decided by the respective lecturers. At the beginning of every module, the lecturers will give you information about the requirements of the module, how to satisfy them, and what are the possibilities of retakes if necessary.

IMPORTANT: Please note that assessment deadlines do occasionally change and while every effort has been made to ensure this is correct at the time of publishing you should make sure you check with the module leaders to ensure that you are aware of any changes.

Assessment methods

Assessment is an integral part of learning, and you may hear it referred to as formative or summative. Formative assessment is developmental in nature and is designed to give feedback to students on their performance and how it can be improved therefore you will not receive a grade for formative assessment. Formative assessment is an essential part of the learning process and has been shown to contribute to the enhancement of learning and raising of standards.

Summative assessment is designed to measure the extent to which you have achieved the intended learning outcomes of a module and therefore the appropriate grade to be awarded. The summative component of an assessment task is designed to measure achievement of a learning outcome. Summative assessment should assess achievement of all learning outcomes in a secure, fair and accurate manner.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

Submission, receipt, marking and return of assessment

Submission and receipt of coursework

Submission of coursework should be made upon the request of the module leader: either in print or electronic format or some cases in both formats. If a student is explicitly asked to hand in coursework electronically, then s/he has to do so. An electronic receipt, however, is at the discretion of the module instructor, and may not be available.

If the student does not observe deadlines it means immediate failure of that assessment element!
Following deadlines and lecturer instructions are entirely the students' responsibility!

Program management will do every effort to make all deadline and duties available at multiple fora, but the student has to make use of these!

Exams

Final examinations – if a written or viva voce examination is required at the Faculty – will be announced in a timely manner by the Program Manager and the Program Administrator.

- Students can register for a module only once. It is not possible to register for a module multiple times.
- There are no prerequisites for the modules. Students have to register for the modules in the given semester. There is no possibility of cross-registration between the spring and fall semesters.
- Students have to finish the modules – that is they have to have a mark in the NEPTUN system- that they have registered for by the following deadlines:
 - in the fall by the next 31 January
 - in the spring by 31 August.
- Exams can be repeated once. Semester papers can be handed in only once after rejection. Re-sent papers have to arrive by 15 January in the fall and 1 June in the spring.
- Those students who do not finish core modules (these are marked in the timetable) the Program will dismiss.

Assessment Feedback

Feedback on your assessment (both formative and summative) provides the opportunity for you reflect on your work and to use this feedback as the basis for learning and improvement.

Feedback can take many forms and may be informal, for example, it may be offered and discussed in classroom sessions either collectively or individually. It may also be more formal and delivered, for example, in written or oral form from peers or academic staff. Understanding your feedback is very

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

important and achieving comprehension of feedback you are encouraged to discuss feedback with your peers and academic staff.

Receiving feedback on your work is an essential and important part of your learning, and therefore all modules provide regular opportunities for formative assessment. The purpose of this assessment is to get just detailed feedback (rather than marks) on your performance so that you can get a regular update on how you are developing and to prepare you for any summative assessment (summative assessment counts towards your final grade – the absolutorium).

Progressing on your program

Your grades

Assignments will be marked using the UP five-point marking scale shown below - 5 being the best and 1 being the worst.

GRADE	DESCRIPTION	PERCENTAGE
5	Excellent	88-100
4	Good	75-87
3	Fair	61-74
2	Pass	51-60
1	Fail	0-50

In every semester there are five subjects each is worth 6 credits. Students are expected to obtain 12 publications credits in the first four semesters. (That is 3 – three publications points.)

The minimum pass mark for all assignments is grade 2 (pass). A passing grade can be achieved if a student achieves 51% from the 100% of the marks obtainable in all courses. If a module has more assessment components or consists of two parts, the student has to pass all those components or parts which have a higher weight than 20% out of the 100% to pass the whole module.

The maximum duration (without any interruption) of the program for students can be 8 active semesters. The breakdown of the program is the following:

2 years classroom activities and work on assigned projects towards the absolutorium that closes with the doctoral complex exam.

After successful completion of the doctoral complex exam 2 years of dissertation research concluding in the defense of the thesis.

Students have to finish the first four semesters in maximum 8 semesters. The student has a right to suspend her/his studies with a passive status. Passive status can be obtained only two times in succession per request of the student.

In the second phase of the studies, students have two years to hand in the first version of their dissertation. Per request students have the right to extend this period with one more year.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

Students have to finish their studies in maximum double the time of the original duration; that is eight years.

Student status shall be terminated at the end of the eighth semester for which a doctoral student has registered.

Proposal defense

Before you can embark on your individual research, you have to defend your research proposal at an open presentation. This process is called the proposal defense. It is organized in conjunction with the Doctoral Complex Examination.

The student can only enter the 2nd phase of the study program upon the successful completion of the Doctoral Complex Examination. In case of failure at the Doctoral Complex Examination accordance with the Hungarian national law on higher education, the student is entitled to apply for the examination again in the same semester of the failed attempt.

In case the second attempt results in failure, the study period of the student terminates.

You have to be physically present at this occasion. If the health situation does not enable you to appear it is your responsibility to notify the Program administrator and formally ask for an online possibility of defending your proposal.

Candidates can apply by submitting a one-page abstract and 5-6 pages long Research Proposal via e-mail to the Program Director, Dr. Zsuzsanna VITAI, vitai.zsuzsanna@tk.pte.hu

Deadline: is provided every year by program management

Students have to have an accepted semester paper in Principles of Business Research to be able to defend their proposals.

Students cannot hand in their Principles of Business Research paper as their final research proposal! Also students cannot hand in the same research proposal that they handed in when entering the program!

The proposal has to contain

- the preliminary structure of the dissertation,
- clarify the applied research methods/data sources,
- determine the literature base,
- moreover, provide the plan for dissertation research.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

The proposal will be sent to an independent reviewer and the supervisor who will evaluate its content on a scale of 1-10. 10 is representing one-third of the maximum amount of points that can be obtained. Candidates may reflect that in written form or during the presentation.

The Proposal Defense is an open debate. 15 minutes will be given to each student for the presentation and 5 minutes for the discussion.

Based on the submitted research proposal and the defense, the committee (the supervisor, the reviewer, and the chair) will assess the proposal and the presentation on a pass-fail basis. Marking is not possible.

Completion requirements of the first phase of studies:

ALL modules completed and the final requirements of the lecturers are satisfied. These may vary. Usually, a term paper is evaluated. ALL grades must appear in NEPTUN. You have to have an accepted research proposal to be eligible for the second phase and you have to pass the Doctoral Complex Examination.

Please note: completing the first phase does not equal the Absolutorium.

Doctoral Complex Examination

Students have to take a Complex Examination at the end of the first phase of their studies – after two years, in June. The exam is viva voce and students have to be physically present. The possibility of a distance exam via Skype, or any other electronic means is at the discretion of the Program Director. The exam committee consists of a chair and four other lecturers. The study material of the exam is published each year at the Program's Internet site in October. Students have to choose four questions from a question pool and answer them. The four areas of the exam are: Finance, Marketing,

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

Management, Operations management. The exam is at a pass/fail basis, no marking is done. If the student fails at the exam, s/he can resit it in August. If the student fails the resit, the student status is terminated and the student has to be discharged from the Program. The student is entitled to ask for a Transcript of records.

Second phase: research and dissertation writing; duration two years

The student can hand in the dissertation if s/he has satisfied the publication requirements in full: minimum 30 publication points, among them 4 peer reviewed journal articles, minimum 1 Q1-Q3 category all in English.

Submitted dissertations will be pre-evaluated by two external experts in the field. The student has to accept the opinion of the reviewer and correct the dissertation accordingly. After this the student can hand in the dissertation for the final evaluation

MTMT

Students have to register their publications in the Database of the Hungarian Scientific Works (Magyar Tudományos Művek Tára) <https://www.mtmt.hu/> Students can ask help with the database in the library form the librarians.

The activities of the students will be evaluated two times per year after 31 January and 30 June.

No points may be given to the following:

- doctoral dissertation,
- daily and weekly journals, non-scientific journals.

Absolutorium

Conditions:

1. First version of the dissertation sent to referees
2. 120 completed credits
3. 30 publications points: that is 120 credits (not necessarily from the four articles)
4. Successful complex exam

Dissertation

Deadline of submitting the dissertation: At the end of the eight active semesters.

If you do not submit the final version of your dissertation three years after the complex exam you will be discharged from the program. Extenuating circumstances MAY apply, such as for example the pandemic.

The overall objective of the Dissertation is to prove that the student can do independent research. The range of problems that may be addressed is extensive. The student's supervisor has to agree with the student on the topic and the used methodology.

Dissertation topic and supervisor selection and the process of dissertation submission

Students' dissertation topic and supervisor selection and the process of dissertation submission consist of the following steps:

1. Students choose their topic – it is a free choice.
2. Students consult their supervisor about their chosen topic. If the supervisor approves their topic, the student can start the research.
3. Students may change their supervisor based only on a serious ground and once in the total duration of their studies. The evaluation of the causes and the decision on another supervisor or a new research topic is exclusively at the Program Director's discretion.

Dissertation evaluation stages

The formal requirements of the dissertation are in Appendix 4. Please closely follow the regulations, dissertations that do not follow the formal requirements will be sent back to the student for amendment.

Stage I.

Students have to provide one electronic and three hard copies of their dissertation to the Program Administrator. The electronic copy is used to check the paper with Turnitin, two hard copies are sent out to referees, one is for the record. The hard copies should be bound (a soft cover is sufficient)

The Program Director will select two referees to evaluate the first completed version of the dissertation. The evaluation format is free. The assessors hand in the evaluation in writing (hard copy) to Program management. The student has a right to see the evaluation. Also, it is encouraged to read and take the suggestions on board. The assessors have three options concerning the evaluation:

- Option 1. Accept as it is, no changes required
- Option 2. Conditionally accept – revision is needed.
- Option 3. Reject – through revision is mandatory

Depending on the decision the student has to take steps to address issues as required by the assessors.

Stage II.

After the student did the necessary steps to correct the dissertation according to the requirements of the assessors the Program Director assigns two new, independent assessors to evaluate the dissertation. The decision of these assessors is binding and final.

Students at this stage have to provide again one electronic and six hard copies of their dissertation to the Program Administrator. The electronic copy is used to check the paper with Turnitin, two hard copies are sent out to referees, one is for the record. The hard copies should be bound, here a black hard cover is required.

The assessors have two options concerning the evaluation:

- Option 1. Accept
- Option 2. Reject – through revision is mandatory

If the referee rejected the dissertation the student has to do a through revision. The student can hand in the dissertation again in two years.

Application for the Doctoral procedure

You find the application form in the Appendix 2 of this Handbook. Fees apply to the procedure; please consult the Program Administrator about the amount to pay and the ways of payment.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics

Dissertation Defense

After the assessors accepted the dissertation, the student has to defend her/his thesis before a committee in an open debate. The debate is open also to the public, the dissertation is put to view in the Library, and the public can read and put questions to the candidate both in writing and at the debate orally. The legal regulation of the open debate is in Appendix 3.

After successfully defending the dissertation the title: Doctor of Philosophy Ph.D. is issued by the University of Pécs.

Certificates

When you graduate, your final qualification certificate will be issued by the University of Pécs and will have the details of your qualification.

Your University of Pécs degree can be taken over at the Graduation Ceremony; you will be informed about the date of this ceremony in good time. If you cannot participate in this ceremony, you can ask for the certificate to be sent to the address you specify.

Study-related matters, provisions

Extenuating Circumstances

With extenuating circumstances (payment deferral, credit transfer, sports activity, work placement, absence, health problems) you have to contact the Student Affairs Officer first and ask about your duties.

Academic Misconduct

Plagiarism is the presentation by a student, as his or her work, of a body of material (written, visual or oral) which is wholly or partly the work of another. In fact, plagiarism extends to cover one's work previously assessed or published which is also required to be properly referenced.

Taking unfair advantage of other authors, students or oneself in this way is considered by The University of Pécs, Faculty of Business and Economics, to be a serious offense. The University of Pécs, Faculty of Business and Economics, will take serious action against any student who plagiarizes whether through negligence, foolishness or deliberate intent. Make sure written material, ideas, theories, formulae, pictures, figures, anything that is used by you and not your work are acknowledged through the use of quotation marks, references, and bibliographies. Information on the correct way of acknowledging work from other sources is available from <http://libweb.anglia.ac.uk/referencing/harvard.htm>. Academic misconduct also covers cheating in examinations.

Plagiarism – in more details - is taking someone else's work or ideas and passing them off as your own. Remember plagiarism is not just restricted to essays or reports it can also happen with visual work as well. It includes:

- Copying – submission of someone else's entire work as your own. The original work could be from the internet, a classmate, or a student in a previous year.
- Failing to indicate a direct quote (quotation marks should be used) in the text.
- Paraphrasing or synthesizing material from a book, journal article or internet site without acknowledging the source in the text.
- Composing a paragraph by joining sentences from some sources and not acknowledging them in the text.
- Using your previous work in another assignment without acknowledging it.

In the case of plagiarism, the student will have to face the Ethical Committee of the University and bear the consequences of her/his deed.

The University of Pécs has bought the software "Turnitin," and all student work that is written will be checked via the Turnitin website. All consequences of plagiarism including any financial harm that has come to the University of Pécs are entirely at the student's responsibility.

If you have any questions regarding plagiarism or academic misconduct, then please contact the Program Manager.

Conditions of discharging a student from the program

Student status shall be terminated:

1. If a doctoral student fails to pass the complex examination, on the day of the missed or unsuccessful examination.
2. upon obtaining a final certificate (absolutorium) in a doctoral programme,
3. at the end of the eighth semester for which a doctoral student has registered
4. if a student fails to register for the next semester for the third consecutive time,
5. if a student fails to resume studies following the suspension of student status, provided that the student has been called on to meet this obligation within a specified time limit and has been informed of the legal consequences of the failure to comply
6. Failing a subject two times
7. if a doctoral student exceeds the allowed period of study time, that is twice the normal period: 8 years.
8. In the case of serious academic misconduct. Proved case of multiple (three times) plagiarism of any work, including semester papers and/or research proposal on the day that the disciplinary decision on expulsion becomes final.
9. Any misconduct that is punishable by the regulations of the University of Pécs. To be found: https://international.pte.hu/sites/international.pte.hu/files/2020-10/disciplinary_regulation_20180621.pdf

Appeals

Students can appeal against assessment board decisions and the outcome of academic misconduct cases. Appeals should be handed in to the Program Manager in writing, specifying the nature of the appeal.

Program Fees

The fees payable for attendance, the comprehensive exam, and the final defense of the dissertation are also announced at the program website.

Tuition fee: 20 000 Euro

- 1. semester: 4 000 EUR
- 2-4. semester: 3 000 EUR/semester
- 5-8. semester: 1 500 EUR/semester
- Complex examination: 1000 EUR

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

If you need assistance in payment first you have to inquire at Program management if your request can be considered. The final decision on payments will be announced by the Program Director.

Fees to be paid by Stipendium Hungaricum scholarship holders

Doctoral students shall pay following procedural fees if they do not have student status:

- Application fee: 1000 Euro
to be paid upon submitting the Dissertation for pre-evaluation.
- Defense fee: 1500 Euro
to be paid upon receipt of the final evaluations of the Dissertation.

The students has 15 days to pay the application and defense fees. The Program Office does not send out the dissertation to the referees until the application fee are not collected.

Also for the final defense the fees have to arrive 15 days after the Program Office gets the final referee reports. The Program Office will not start organizing the defense in absence of the fees.

Support

Although you are expected to be independent and to take responsibility for your own academic and personal life, there is still a lot of help available to support you throughout your program.

Your learning resources

Library

The Library of the Faculty of Business and Economics was delocalized with the Central Library of UP into the well-equipped South-Transdanubian Regional Library and Knowledge Centre in the summer of 2010. In the Knowledge Centre, there are 380 computers for readers, and the possibility of both the group work and the individual research is provided. In the whole building, WiFi is available. By opening the Knowledge Centre the weekly opening hours of the Library have increased from 60 hours to 84 hours.

The Library of the Faculty of Business and Economics is located on the third floor of the Knowledge Centre where there are about 100,000 documents. English language books, textbooks, academic journals and periodicals in all the fields of business and economics can be found here. In the last few years, the collection of the Library of the Faculty of Business and Economics increased by about 5,000 items per year. Students are supported by English language assistance. As the Libraries of the Knowledge Centre integrated their services, the Knowledge Centre operates as an extensive library and circa 1 million items are available for the readers.

Subscribed databases are available for the students and researchers via the university network, some of them contain business and economic e-journals and e-books such as Business Source Premier (EBSCOhost), JSTOR, Regional Business News (EBSCOhost), ScienceDirect, Scopus, and Springer Link.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

Furthermore, the Library of UP has taken up digitalization of the solid collection so that the documents would be better available and researchable for the readers.

Since 1996, the Library has become the Depository Library of the World Bank, thus providing excellent data and document sources for interested researchers and students.

Joining the Library

Students are asked to complete an enrollment form to join the Library. The Library Card entitles all students to use any of the library services.

Reservations and Interlibrary Loans

Books on loan from any of the libraries may be reserved by another borrower and recalled. Books and journals not in stock may be borrowed from elsewhere.

The Collection of Documents of the European Union

There is a special collection of the documents of the European Union, established with the help of the PHARE program. This collection is presently under the supervision of the Faculty of Law. The collection is located in the Knowledge Centre, and open for all students of UP. This mainly English language collection comprises journals, periodicals, statistics and annuals issued by the EU and provide up-to-date information for researchers. The collection is supported by CD-ROM and Internet search systems.

IT facilities

The Faculty has five computer rooms with 145 computers for teaching purposes.

Attendance requirements

1. Students are required to attend all scheduled classes and prescribed activities for the program.
2. Although there is no maximum rate of absence students are strongly advised to participate in all the classes prescribed to them in the given semester, as the valuable class discussion time cannot be made up by any means.
3. Students must make themselves available at all times to attend for viva voce examinations at times when given the structure of the course they are taking; they may reasonably be expected to be available
4. Students must notify their academic tutor or another tutor in advance if they cannot attend any compulsory class, lecture, etc. The academic tutor has the discretion to decide how the student should compensate for work not done in the classroom if it is needed.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

5. They must inform the tutor of any illness which is affecting their attendance and supply a medical certificate if they are absent for more than one week.
6. Students must notify the Program or the Studies Office in writing if they are withdrawing from a course.
7. All withdrawals, including those where students have failed to reply to letters under paragraph 5 above should be notified immediately to the Dean of the Faculty on the appropriate form. Refund of fees, where applicable, will be at the discretion of the Dean as specified in the Financial Regulations of the Faculty of Business and Economics of the University of Pécs.
8. Where a student withdraws before the end of a given semester the last day of attendance should be noted as the last date of recorded attendance if known. Otherwise, it should be given as the date on the letter from the Program Manager requesting an explanation of absence (see paragraph 5 above). Where a student withdraws at the end of a given semester the date should be noted as the last day of that semester.

Students, who fail to register for the program after two weeks of starting the program without any good cause, will be deemed to have withdrawn. In this case, no refund of the fees is possible.

Health and Safety requirements

Students are expected to behave according to general Faculty regulations and not endanger their own or anybody else's health and safety. Students are liable for any damage that is caused by them to anyone else on the premises.

Students have to observe the existing regulations concerning the pandemic. Students who deny obeying disease control measures will be removed from the premises.

How to help enhance your program

How can you feedback to us

If you have a suggestion or a complaint about any aspect, please raise it with the person concerned in the first instance. If you are not satisfied with the outcome you can progress the matter through informal and formal procedures step by step up the management structure of University of Pécs, Faculty of Business and Economics:

Appendix No. 1 .

Guidelines for writing the Ph.D. thesis research proposal¹

According to the expectations by the end of the second year of their studies Ph.D., students get far enough in their research to finalize the research topic of their dissertation. This assumes that they become highly advanced in the academic research field they have chosen. At the end of the second year of their studies Ph.D. students must have not only a narrowed down and clearly specified field of research they want to do their Ph.D. research but they are also obligated to outline their research project within this field. The aim of a Ph.D. dissertation, just like that of any other scientific research is to solve a scientific question.

1. What can be a research topic, what is an unsolved scientific question?

The Ph.D. candidate has to clearly indicate in the research proposal the unsolved scientific questions he/she is aiming to answer in the dissertation. If there are not questions to be answered, problems to be solved the Ph.D. dissertation can not be regarded as a scientific, academic paper. In the research proposal first of all the topic of the research must be cleared but this should not be only the outline of the wider or narrower research topic, but a clearly defined scientific problem must be indicated which has been not or not fully researched and solved.

2. The importance of the topic: Why did we choose the given research topic?

Indicating the scientific problem to be solved its relevance has to be emphasized, too. It has to be formulated clearly why is it worth to examine the chosen problem.

3. Hypotheses

In this period of the research, the candidate must formulate hypothetical answers to his/her questions. However, some of these may become inadequate or less relevant at a later point they provide information about the main orientation of the answers the candidate is looking for not only for the supervisor, but also others who are concerned.

4. The secondary literature and preliminary research on the given topic

The Ph.D. candidate must indicate (because of the limits of the proposal of course just in a marking way) which authors which ways have contributed to the elaboration of the given problem and also the strongly related questions. However, it can not be expected that a complete literature survey is provided in the research proposal explicit references to the most important results and viewpoints of inevitable authors of the research topic are required. Even in this period of the research efforts should be made

¹ Compiled by Károly Barakonyi on the basis of Katalin Szabó's and Ernő Zalai's approaches

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

to explore the most relevant international (and national, if any) researches carried out on the given topic. Having developed a detailed elaboration, this could be followed by a well-structured literature survey.

5. Minor questions of the research

In the research proposal not only the main question of the dissertation should be indicated but minor questions must also be expressed, formulated in a point by point way. It is advisable to structure this section as an outline putting the main problem/topic – sub-problems/topics - further minor problems/topics in a hierarchic, logical structure just like a register.

6. The methodology of the research

The candidate must indicate those methods which he/she would like to apply to prove the hypotheses of the research. It is of high importance that the candidate can explain and give reasons for his/her choice of the method from all the possible methods in the research proposal. Furthermore, it is also important that the candidate implies scientific methods which are suitable for solving the problem, and are not just easy to reach. In case the author uses special courses (e.g., databases, interviews or consultations made in an enterprise, institution or with private individuals, etc.) he/she must indicate these as well in his/her proposal.

7. The candidate's previous researches carried out in the given field

If the Ph.D. student has gone already far in his/her researches on the given topic, has already elaborated some parts, or has already published some of his/her results he/she is required to enclose the abstract of the results and a list of the previous publications.

8. Problems blocking the research

Last but not least the proposal must also indicate those problems, barriers, difficulties concerning the research which the candidate can solve and eliminate only receiving support, aid and assistance from the supervisor or the academic staff. This could include concrete financial funds (acquisition of books, periodicals; funding international trips for conferences or research), acquaintance with national and international experts, attendance at national and international conferences, access to literature databases, etc.

9. Preparing a research schedule

Having looked through all of these a research schedule has to be prepared for several years ahead:

- When is it planned to elaborate and work on specific tasks?
- How long will it take, how much will it cost must be planned for each and every period of the research.
- What kind of applications is to be submitted, when?
- When is a paper to be submitted and published?
- Which national and, or international conferences are to be attended.
- Which consultations are to be planned with whom and when.

UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

Faculty of Business and Economics
International Ph.D. Program of Business
Administration

The first version of the research schedule is inaccurate and sketch like. This schedule will be changed – it becomes more detailed and exact as the proposal gets more and more accurate and the research goes further. It is important always to have a guide in our hands concerning what we should do and when. It can not be forgotten that the main goal is to have an informational, well-structured Ph.D. dissertation containing new scientific results written and defended. It is suggested to have a consultation with the supervisor regularly (every three months) and discuss with him/her the schedule and or amend it if needed.

10. The depth of the elaboration

It is worth to carefully elaborate the research proposal the length of which should be about 10-15 pages since some of its sections can be used as part of the dissertation's introduction or that of the thesis summary or even as a preface. The external opponents of the research proposal may give comments which can prevent the candidate from taking a wrong way in his/her researches or leading the research into a dead-end. All these are hidden in the research proposal. Therefore, it is of high importance that it is carefully written. The research proposal delivers a structural approach to the problem and a clear formulation of the research's main goal.

11. The research proposal's further advantages

The research proposal (or any of its variations) can form a basis for scholarships' applications, or applications for a research project. Furthermore, it offers a basis for professional reviews among other Ph.D. candidates or even in a wider professional circle.

Please, compose and elaborate your research proposal as indicated above. The deadline for submitting the first draft is:

The draft should be edited and rewritten as a result of the consultations. The title of the Ph.D. dissertation is to be finalized after the research project has been already elaborated.

31. §35 The Thesis Dissertation has to be defended in front of the Review Committee in an open debate. The debate has to be announced one week before the date of the Thesis Defense on the billboard and the home page (<http://www.ktk.pte.hu>) of the Faculty as well as on the location of the Defense. The Committee of the Doctoral School can decide about the announcement of the Defense in the media.

32. § (1) The Review Committee is appointed by the Doctoral Committee on the proposal of the Doctoral School. The Review Committee consists of the Chairman, the two opponents, and further two members. The Chairman of the Committee is the member of the University who is a specialist in the field. All the members of the Committee hold a scientific degree. One opponent and at least one member have to be an outsider professional, who has no employment record at the University. The Supervisor of the Candidate cannot be a member of the Committee. Exclusively in the case of conflict of interest or bias, the Candidate can raise objection against the composition of the Review Committee at the Doctoral Committee in a written form.

(2)36 Upon the bid of the Doctoral Committee, the two opponents prepare their review on the Thesis and declare whether they consider the Thesis worth to be set for an open debate. After the arrival of the reviewer opinions and the answers, the Defense has to be organized within three months. The Thesis can be submitted to an open debate only if both of the reviews are supportive. When one of the reviews is negative, the Doctoral Committee invites the third opponent. In this case, the number of the members of the Review Committee will be increased to six.

In the case of two dismissive reviews or an unsuccessful defense, the Candidate can resubmit the new thesis dissertation or participate in the review process two years after the date the earliest.

Within the same doctoral topic, a new review process can be launched only once.

(3) In the review the opponent has to describe in detail the virtues and shortcomings of the Dissertation, evaluating whether the new, scientific results (detailed in the Dissertation) of the candidate are acceptable. The opponents have to mention if they support the acceptance of the Dissertation and the award of the Doctoral Degree.

(4) Three copies of the opponents' reviews have to be forwarded to the Doctoral Committee and the Committee of the Doctoral School. To the reviews, the Candidate has to answer in written form and forward his/her answer to the Committee of the Doctoral School.

(5) Upon two supportive reviews, the Dissertation has to be debated at an open Defense within three months of the university calendar. The candidates receive the reviews before the Defense in written form and answer the questions, addressed by the opponents to the candidate, in written form at least 15 days before the Thesis Defense. The Dean's Office of the Faculty ensures that the members of the Review Committee can have access to the Dissertation, the Opponents' Reviews and to the Candidate Answers.

33. § (1) The debate is moderated by the Chairman of the Committee.

(2) At the beginning of the open debate, the Chairman assesses the quorum, to which at least four members of the Review Committee, out of which at least one is an outsider professional, are present. The debate can be conducted only if at least one of the opponents is present and the other opponent stated in written form that he accepts the answers of the Candidate to his/her questions.

(3) Within the framework of the open debate, the Candidate presents the thesis then he/she answers to the written questions of Opponents, of the members of Review Committee and the audience.

(4) After the debate is closed by the Chairman, the Committee decides on the acceptance of the Dissertation in a closed session, with secret voting, giving points from 1 to 5. The Dissertation is accepted if the Candidate receives at least 60 percent from the maximum points from the members of the Committee, present at the Defense. The successfully defended Dissertation has the following qualifications: summa cum laude (above 85 percent), cum laude (between 71 and 85 percent), rite (between 60 to 70 percent). If the evaluation of the Dissertation is below 60 percent the defense of the Dissertation is unsuccessful. The Chairman publicly announces the result of the open debate after the voting and reasons it.

(5) The Debate has to be minuted.

(6) In the case of unsuccessful defense, the Candidate can resubmit and participate in the review process two years after the date of the previous defense at the earliest. Within the same doctoral topic, a new review process can be launched only once.
